

Public Content Submissions

Anyone interested in submitting content, articles, news items, or announcements on this website who are not regular subscription members please read the following...

In general, all content submission is reserved for our Regular Subscription Members who may immediately log in and use our powerful built in content editors for such purposes. However, we are also interested in reviewing submissions from our guest members as well as the general public, journalist, scholars, researchers, etc. and will consider publishing such content if we find its something that will benefit the Sound Healing Network Community.

Therefore if you wish to publish on our site, please compose your article and send it to us here as a plain text email, or as an attached MS Word document. We will review your article and consider its submission under an appropriate category in our Articles or News Sections.

We encourage you to become a full regular member and believe you will find the benefits far outweigh the $40 annual membership dues! If you are a writer and connected in any way to sound healing, here is a great place to publish some of your works! Click here to Upgrade your account!
